

<The title of a supplementary document is entered by opening the Master page and changing the variable to the appropriate document name.>

<The first paragraph of a document introduces what the doc's about at a high level... not too many details. Don't forget to include a list of cross-referenced Heading 1s in the document to provide users with a context for what the document covers (shown next).>

This document provides information on the following topics:

- Heading 1
- Contacting Global Support
- Copyright Information

NOTE Both of the last two items in the preceding list come at the end of any supplementary document.

Heading 1

Use this heading to start off writing the content. Sometimes you'll have a paragraph introducing the document and other times you won't.
